April 18 is the last day for the payment of county taxes.

A company has been formed at Fortville to bores for natural gas.

The health board reports thirty-six deaths and forty births for the week.

The work of listing property for taxation purposes will finish Friday next.

The trial of James H. G. over for an other week, owing to the absence of witnesses.

There were eighty-nine transfers of real estate last week, aggregating in value $110,- 000.50.

The Indiana woman suffrage convention will meet in annual session in this city May 3 and 4.

Milton H. McPherson of Marshall county, has been released under the poor convict act by Commissioner Jordan.

The township assessors, at the meeting Saturday, added about 6 per cent. to the assessment of personal property, as compared with last year.

The attorney general has furnished the prosecutor of Clark county a large amount of evidence to be used in the attempted prosecution of ex-Wardon Howard.

study from life.

It is said that a number of the south-side gracers are seeking relief from the agreement entered into one year ago to close their places every evening at 7 o'clock, save on Saturday night, owing principally to the objections of their customers.

It is claimed that the natural gas well now being sunk at Brightwood is within the range of the Trenton rock. The boring began on Friday, and it is expected that something definite will be known in ten days, as rapid progress is being made.

of bigamy.

The Musical Convention Orchestra.

A news reporter encountered a member of the musical committee, charged with the duty of providing an orchestra for the National convention and musical festival which meets in this city on the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th of July next and inquired:

"Have you anything to say in reply to the criticism of Mr. Cameron said, if the character of the music to be rendered at the approaching convention or festival were such as was given at our last musical festival, but such is not the case as one of the requirements of the officers of the National Music Teachers' association is that we shall present them with an orchestra of not less than fifty from trained or skilled musicians, who have been playing together. They object most decidedly to a mixed orchestra.

"When the committee looked about for such an orchestra they found there was but one in the west that would fill the requirements of the association, and that had but twenty-five members, and they were forced to open negotiations with eastern organizations. We found that the managers of the Cincinnati musical festival had employed Theodore Theodore's orchestra at each of their festivals.

The committee would have very much preferred to employ home talent, if the requirements of the association could have been met, but they regretted to find that the west had no such organizations.

"This is a national convention, and not a local affair. Its members are among the best musicians in America, and its music will require the best talent that can be produced in the country, to render it in a manner satisfactory to those who will be here and creditable to our city. We did the only thing we could do, and if any one will take the trouble to call upon any one of the committee and read the correspondence in our possession, they will be fully satisfied with our action."

The Newboys' Anniversary.

The first anniversary of the Newboys' and Bootblacks' home was held at the First Baptist church last night, and the exercises were of an unusually interesting character.

Miss L. E. Reed read the scriptures and Dr.

Jeffery commended the charity and its usefulness. Miss Mollie G. Hay gave an account of the year's work among the boys.

During the year, of the one hundred boys who had utilized the home, the average daily record is that thirty have meals, eighteen have lodging and twenty-five the Sunday evening Bible class. Leaving a balance of $75, which had been applied to the rent. Senator Harrison followed in a brief address on "The Street Walk and the Future Citizen," dwelling upon the many advantages that were offered the boys by the home life. The institution, he said, had won sympathy from the start, and it was doing a great and noble work. The struggles through which they had to go, their privations and poverty made the newboys, in many respects, better qualified for citizenship than those who had more favorable surroundings in youth. Mayor Deany, who spoke briefly, said there were 533 licensed newboys and bootblacks in Indianapolis, and he had his own opinion as to the value of licenses, for bad conduct, since the ordinance was passed, and the improvement in the boys had been noticeable. Brief addresses of an encouraging nature were also made by Rev. J. A. Rondthaler and E. W. Halford.

News For North Mississippi Street.

During the meeting Saturday night which was held on Seventh street to protest against the Kolchek saloon, Rev. Mr. Duncan announced that the owners of the property on Mississippi street, near Sixth, which had been leased for saloon purposes for several years, had consented not to renew the lease, and soon the citizens in that immediate neighborhood would be relieved of the traffic which has been a serious inconvenience to them in many ways. If the Kolchek matter should go ahead, this will transfer to Seventh street the gangs which have made the other locality a nuisance, for however disposed Kolchek may be to run an orderly place, he can not prevent these loungers from at least hanging around his corner.

A New Feature.

The socialist building association, started two months ago, has for a special feature that it takes no premium from its members for the use of its money, the idea being to make the burden as light as possible to the borrower. As a consequence, every cent of money which will accumulate for the year has been bespoken, and one member made application Saturday night for $3000 was told he would have to wait one year before he could be accommodated.

An Embryo Politician Dashed.

Saturday evening, as a news reporter left the hall on Seventh street, where the meeting was held in opposition to Kolchek's saloon, an embryo politician upon the outside said: "Taylor is not presiding." "But he is," rejoined the reporter, "and not only that, he is serving upon the committee that proposes to fight Kolchek before the board and in the courts." "What?" ejaculated the reporter, "I should have thought for political reasons he would have kept away," and the politician wandered off in a daze of apprehension.

A MEETING OF CITIZENS

Who Strongly Object to the Surreptitious

Location of a Saloon in Their Midst.

There was an earnest meeting of citizens

Saturday night at Centennial hall, on Seventh street, to protest against the establishment of a saloon on the corner of Seventh and Tennessee streets. Judge N. B. Taylor
